Excerpt: .The event proved that this step had been taken too late. He died in less than three weeks after he left Madras. Nestorians.--It was stated in the April Herald that the mission had been constrained to send two of their number to Teheran, --Messrs. Perkins and Stocking, --for the purpose of submitting to the government a correct view of their operations. This step had become necessary in consequence of the unfavorable report of two Mohammedan meerzas, appointed, --at the instance of the French envoy, and with the consent of the Russian ambassador, --to proceed to Oroomiah, and inquire into the truth of the allegation that the mission had detached certain Nestorians from their original ecclesiastical connection. After Messrs. Perkins and Stocking had made such statements and explanations as seemed to be called for, the Russian ambassador procured a firman, directing that the three Nestorians who were said to have been drawn off from their church and attached to another ecclesiastical body, should be summoned to Tabreez, and declare under oath whether the charge was true or not. Accordingly the individuals referred to, in company with Doct. Wright, proceeded to Tabreez, and arrived there, January 31. The examination took place, February 7. A full report of the proceedings was sent to the Shah, and also to the Russian ambassador at Teheran; but the final decision of the government had not transpired at the date of the last communication from the mission. Our brethren, however, anticipate...
